

EARTH | How did Earth come into being?

The so-called “big bang” - as you call it - did happen. The universe came into being through the release of an enormously compressed ENERGY.

... During and after the explosive process of CREATION, innumerable individual explosions of fragments took place.

Question:

Does this make a planet a fragment of its sun?

ARGUN:

A planet is a small fragment in comparison to its sun.

Question:

How did the planets come into being?

LUKAS:

The planets are the sun’s children. As the planetary system began to form, they were parts of a disk shaped structure to begin with. There was an enormously powerful centre of gravity within the centre of this disk shaped structure. In the course of time, planets separated as individual rings through the influence of external forces. A compression of the physical components of these rings took place later. The universal angular momentum remained preserved. All planets came into being in this way and this without exceptions.

Question:

The Earth is supposed to have come into being 4.5 billion years ago. In its early phase, a great number of meteorites crashed into its surface. Did these meteorites supply the modules for the synthesis of life on Earth?

EUPHENIUS:

We are dealing with complimentary processes and they were necessary to allow growth and life to take place here. These were elements of cellulose, necessary to make a start here in association with divine ENERGIES. These meteorites brought all the vital substances and elements that started the evolutionary process here on Earth. You, as human beings, would not exist without these elements.

About CREATION

2. After GOD created the Earth and light, HE proceeded to separate water from land in order to give HIS organic life the opportunity to exist on this Earth. HE showed Lucifer how to accomplish this – and lo and behold, it was good.

GOD said to Lucifer:

3. I am life and life can only come from life. I am spirit and spirit can only come from spirit. I am the beginning and the end all at once. I am the eternal circle.
4. I am movement, I am energy. All matter is my movement, my energy; this is why it doesn't matter whether I am in a solid or ethereal state. I am everywhere where there is movement and movement is in animated and unanimated bodies, in visible and invisible bodies.
5. See, I have created light and it shines on planet earth, it shines on every solid body, so that light and darkness separate from one another. There is light and shadow so that every living thing can see it.
6. Everything spiritual will emanate invisible light and therefore have no shadow and nobody will see it, but with his spirit. But I will combine the visible with the invisible and separate again according to my will.
7. GOD now created HIS living CREATION ...

(From a report by H. V. Speer – leader of the MFK Berlin)

“At the beginning, God created heaven and earth...”

GOD certainly didn't create the Earth as the first inhabitable planet. The creation of Earth was preceded by an unimaginable CREATION. Human beings and all animals living on Earth are not a unique CREATION specifically created for planet Earth. The MODEL for every living creature and for every material CREATION in general is always found in the SPIRITUAL WORLD and included in Earth's plan for a limited time only. (Incarnation)
